What happens when the lives of people living in poverty around the world entwine with the lives of U.S.
Catholics?

Testimony to Christ's charity, through works of justice, peace and development, is part and parcel of evangelization, because Jesus Christ, who loves us, is concerned with the whole person. These important teachings form the basis for the missionary aspect of the Church's social doctrine, which is an essential element of evangelization. The Church's social doctrine proclaims and bears witness to faith. It is an instrument and an indispensable setting for formation in faith (Caritas in Veritate #15, Pope Benedict XVI).

Jeffry Odell Korgen is the Executive Director of the Department of Diocesan Planning for the Diocese of Metuchen. From 1998 to 2008 he served on the staff of the National Pastoral Life Center in New York City. During that period, he served The ROUNDTABLE Association of Diocesan Social Action Directors as coordinator and director and the Archdiocese of New York Department of Social and Community Development as a social justice educator. From 2007 to 2008 he also staffed the Conference for Pastoral Planning and Council Development. A native of Slidell, Louisiana, Jeff holds degrees in philosophy, pastoral ministry, and social work from Boston College. He is the author of Solidarity Will Transform the World: Stories of Hope from Catholic Relief Services published by Orbis Books (2007), My Lord and My God!: Engaging Catholics in Social Ministry, published by Paulist Press (2007), and co-editor of Living God's Justice: Reflections and Prayers published by St. Anthony Messenger Press (2006).
